

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. This law has been most effective in significantly cutting the number of unwanted phone calls.